Required Reading

At Home with Designers and Tastemakers: Creating Beautiful and Personal Interiors is noted design book author Susanna Salk's latest title. With photography by Stacey Bewkes, this tome takes readers through the incredible homes of designers, celebrities, and creatives alike.

Through his experience in product design, interiors, and as former creative director of Ralph Lauren Home, Billy Cotton has become a trusted name in the home industry. His debut book, Billy Cotton: Interior & Design Work, documents his career thus far.

Vibrant Interiors: Living Large at Home is designer Andrea Monath Schumacher's first book. Inside, projects brimming with color, pattern, and personality embody the Colorado-based creative's bold aesthetic. To be released May 17.

The editors of digital shelter magazine Rue present Home with Rue: Style for Everyone. Featuring projects across a range of styles and budgets as well as how-to resources, this title is meant to inspire and instruct. To be released May 24.

The Collected Cottage is designer Kathryn Crisp Greeley's second book. Set primarily at her North Carolina home, Chestnut Cottage, the title offers inspiration for gatherings alongside cherished recipes and historical tidbits behind various tabletop collections. To be released in June.

This past September, Arkansas native John Phifer Marrs released his first book, Interiors for Collectors. An ode to his love of antiques, traditional interiors, and artful displays, Marrs instructs readers on how to choose collections, then edit and organize them into thoughtful arrangements.

These recent and forthcoming releases are available at your favorite booksellers or design showrooms.
